The Machine Still Controls.

It looks very much as though Arthur L. Sifton stepped down from the Supreme Court bench to accept the premiership of Alberta for a purpose.

That purpose appears to many to be to hold the machine together until the storm blows over, and then to hand the government back to the tender mercies of the Cross and the Devil.

The announcement of the Sifton cabinet will be made to-day. The following, however, are mentioned as probable members: Premier and Minister of Education—Hon. A. L. Sifton. Minister of Public Works—A. J. McLean, Lethbridge District. Minister of Agriculture—Duncan Marshall, Olds. Attorney-General—Judge C. H. Mitchell, Medicine Hat.

The Edmonton Journal says: "The Lieutenant Governor's action turns back the clock four centuries," and "it is an insult to the dignity and rights of Alberta."

The Calgary Herald says: "The political rumors which are sent out from Edmonton are no more satisfactory to the Liberals than are the actual facts of the case so far as they have been divulged. If there is reasonable ground to believe that Premier Sifton is simply occupying the position as a top-man it will round the already disorganized Liberals into a more helpless mass."

Dominion Day Sports

To the Editor.
Dear Sir—Is it not about time that you were waking the people up to the fact that Red Deer's annual holiday will be here in a month, and as far as I can learn no preparations for celebrating the day have yet been made. The town is in a better position than it has been for several years, to furnish a good day's sport, having well organized Cricket, Baseball, Football, and Gun Clubs, and a good Band. To say nothing of our country friends, for whom this day was primarily inaugurated, there is a large number of people from a distance sufficiently interested in Red Deer to make it a point to be present on her annual holiday.

I would suggest that a public meeting be called at once, committees formed and a programme of the day's sports prepared; and if the citizens will take the interest in the matter which they should, the coming first of July will be the best ever.

Yours,

CITIZEN.

Sons of England Parade.

The annual church parade of Red Deer Sons of England took place Sunday morning last from the lodge room, Michener Hall, and was attended by over 50 members of the order. The procession was headed by the Red Deer brass band, followed by the flag of St. George borne aloft by J. Halstead, Geo. Wilton acting as marshal. The procession marched to St. Luke's church, where an appropriate sermon was preached by the Rev. C. W. G. Moore. After the service the brethren formed in line and marched back to their lodge room, where the band played the National Anthem as they dispersed. The Sons of England lodge is gaining in numbers monthly and will soon be the largest in town.

Sparting Notes.

The Junior School Football team went to Innisfail on Saturday and played the School team of that place. The Red Deer boys had the best of the game and won out by 1-0, although they had to play against some large fellows.

Alix play baseball here tonight and a fast game is expected, as the locals are working in good shape and Alix has one of the best teams in the north.

The first game of the Town Football League was played on Wednesday night last but was called off before the game was finished, owing to the rain. The School and Firemen play tomorrow night.

A strong effort should be made at once for a big demonstration on Dominion Day.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

A Large Number in Attendance.

The Alberta Conference of the Methodist church is meeting in Red Deer this week. The stationing committee, composed of the chairman and one representative from each district, held their first meeting Monday evening for the purpose of stationing ministers for the coming year, a theological conference was held yesterday and the ministerial session will be held to-day.

Public meetings will be held Thursday and Friday evening and on Monday and Tuesday evening next. It is expected between one and two hundred delegates will be in attendance, but the committees in charge have everything well in hand and have billeted the visitors throughout the town.

Watts-Braton

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. N. Braton on Wednesday, May 26th, at 6 o'clock when Mrs. Maria, second daughter of Mrs. N., and the late S. Braton, was married to Oscar Orville Watt, of Innisfail, Rev. T. Habershon, Baptist minister of Innisfail, officiating, and Mr. H. P. Widen, Baptist minister of Eberts, assisting. The bride looked charming in bridal attire of Copenhagen blue silk. She was attended by her younger sister, Miss Margaret Braton. The groom was ably supported by S. I. Smith, of Eberts.

After the wedding ceremony those present sat down to a bountiful repast after which the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. and Mrs. Watt then left for Innisfail followed by the good wishes of the home relatives. They intend spending a short time in Edmonton before taking up housekeeping in Innisfail.

Coram-Marles.

Warath, the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Marles, Willowdale was the scene of a very happy event on Wednesday, May 26th, at high noon when their eldest daughter, Miss Emma was united in the bonds of holy matrimony with Mr. George A. Coram, of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Coram, of Springvale. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. K. Allen, took place upon the lawn under a beautiful bower of white and blue flowers. About eighty guests including nearly all of the immediate relatives of both the contracting parties.

The bride, who was daintily gowned in white mull trimmed with lace and wearing the customary bridal veil and orange blossoms, came to her place under the wedding arch leaning upon the arm of her father. She was attended by her sister, Miss Eliza C. Marles, who wore a gown of pale blue mull with lace trimmings. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Albert E. Coram. As the wedding party took their places, Miss Amy Foulds played the wedding march, and after the ceremony Mr. James Marles sang a solo. Heartily congratulations were offered to the newlyweds, and by the friends present, then all sat down to enjoy a splendid dinner spread on tables erected under a leafy bower upon the lawn.

Thomas Hoskin acted as toast-master and performed his duties in a clerical and jovial manner. He called upon Mr. W. K. Allen to propose the toast to the bride and groom. The latter paid a hearty tribute to the worth of the young couple, referring particularly to the womanly qualities and faithfulness of the bride. The guests responded heartily to the toast and the groom replied briefly. The other toasts were "the host and hostess," and "the groom's father and mother," proposed by Mr. T. Hoskin and "Our guests" proposed by Mr. James Marles. In his remarks Mr. Marles paid a beautiful tribute to the sterling qualities and loyal Christian life of his daughter. Short speeches of a congratulatory nature were made by Mr. J. Coram, Mr. J. Comer and Mr. J. H. Bennett. The concluding toast to the King was proposed by Rev. W. K. Allen and all joined enthusiastically in singing "God Save the King."

Among the guests present was the brother of the bride, Mr. James Marles Jr., of Calgary. The afternoon of the pleasant May day spent in the enjoyment of music and games.

The presents received by the bride constituted a great variety of beautiful and useful articles testifying to the high esteem in which she is held by the whole community, and included a substantial cheque from her father, a fine rocking chair from the numerous of Willowdale Methodist church and other friends, as well as numerous other fine gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Coram will reside at Springvale, where the best wishes of a host of friends will follow them.

Women's Missionary Society

The first annual meeting of the Alberta Branch of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was held in Red Deer last week.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. W. W. Chown, Edmonton, and among the delegates present were—

Edmonton—Mrs. P. E. Butchart, Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Lewis, Miss Bowen, Miss Chapman, Miss Clarke, Miss Smith, Mrs. W. T. Ash, Mrs. W. J. McFarlane, Mrs. Pearson, Calgary—Mrs. A. M. Scott, Mrs. J. G. Campbell, Miss Collins, Miss Spier, Mrs. Winn, Mrs. G. Cobblehead, Mrs. Night, Mrs. D. G. Shoultice, Medicine Hat—Mrs. Cousins, Mrs. Patterson, Swift Current—Mrs. Kruse, Strathcona—Mrs. Wm. Fowler, Botha—Miss E. Eysenath, Lethbridge—Mrs. J. B. Gay, Mrs. Stirling, Mrs. A. Lytle, Mooseley—Mrs. Innes, Maple Creek—Mrs. Johnstone, Claresholm—Mrs. W. Quinley, Paken—Miss Maclean, Red Deer—Mrs. Henderson.

The annual report showed 23 auxiliaries with 620 members, and total receipts of $2,500.

The memorial service, the reports from auxiliaries, &c., were taken up in the afternoon, and in the evening Rev. C. H. Huestis presided, the choir rendering the music, Mrs. Galbraith, President of the local auxiliary, gave the address of welcome and Mrs. Fowler, Strathcona, the reply. Annual reports were presented, and the President, Mrs. Chown, gave an admirable review of the general work of the Society in Canada and in foreign lands. Rev. A. Barner gave a helpful address on Prayer.

Thursday afternoon after devotional exercises, Mrs. Brown brought greetings from the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society, and Mrs. Baker from the Baptist Society. Miss Harrison conducted a conference on mission band work, Mrs. Pearson on mission circles, and Mrs. Magrath in a Iniz conference touched on many points of vital interest to the societies.

The ladies of the church served tea to the delegates and their hostesses, and a social hour was enjoyed by all. In the evening five missionaries from the home fields spoke of their work. Mrs. Innes, of the Indians in Morley; Miss Clark of the Port Simpson work; Mrs. Ash of the Oriental work in Vancouver; Miss Smith of the foreign work in Edmonton; and Miss Maclean of the Austrian work in Northern Alberta.

A dialogue by twelve young ladies in foreign costume was much appreciated. An interesting feature was the presentation by Miss Harrison of the banner of the McDougall Mission Band, Edmonton, they having had the largest number of life members during the year.

Friday a.m., election of officers resulted in the following: Pres.—Mrs. W. W. Chown 1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. J. Cobblehead 2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Barner Rec. Sec.—Mrs. A. Lytle Cor. Sec.—Mrs. W. J. McGrath Band Cor. Sec.—Miss Harrison Treasurer—Mrs. Ash Supt. Sys. Giving—Mrs. Watt Organizers—Mrs. Shoultice, Mrs. Galbraith, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Fowler.

The Eckhardt Co.

This excellent comedy company performing in the Lyric this week is one of the finest, richest costumed and together delighted troupe that has ever visited the town. Monday evening the side-splitting farce, "Brown's in Town," was listened to by a good audience. Miss Josephine Delfry, the leading lady, is most charming and attractive. To-night and to-morrow night these popular favorites will put on two of the finest and latest attractions. Don't miss them. Last night the beautiful comedy-drama, "Paid in Full," the play that has been the talk of New York, was a grand success. Scour seats early.

RED DEER IN LIMELIGHT.

Calgary Albertan Writes Up Our Town.

J.N.McDonald, the well known Alberta correspondent, who was in Red Deer last week, sent in the following glowing account of his visit here. Mr.McDonald is one of the best informed men in the province and is in touch with every progressive movement in Alberta. Read what he has to say of Red Deer:

Red Deer, May 21.—Last June when I visited Red Deer I described the town as being one of the most "beautiful, strategic and picturesque" sites for a large city that I had seen in Alberta, and predicted that in a short time Red Deer would come into its own and be recognized as among the principal commercial cities in the province. The prediction was made after a careful study and personal observation of the natural and other conditions existing here. Some of these were its geographical position, midway between Calgary and Edmonton, its railroad prospects, its great natural resources in agriculture, coal, timber, water power, etc., its beautiful environment and the character of its citizens. From what I have seen in my present visit, I am more than ever convinced that my prediction of a year ago will be fulfilled, in fact its fulfillment is even now commencing and the dawn of a brighter day for the town is already breaking.

RED DEER NEVER "BOOMED"
One thing greatly to the advantage of Red Deer, and one that will tend to its future advantage is that the town was never "boomed" and never experienced the reaction which inevitably follows the fictitious inflation of real estate values, so common in many towns in the west. As a consequence, now that it is about entering on an era of greater prosperity and growth, there are no heartburnings and disappointments over losses incurred through unwise investments.

During all these years, however, although Red Deer was generally considered rather a slow place, it was making steady and sure progress and its citizens were laying on a solid basis the foundations on which to build the superstructure of a large and prosperous city.

SOME REMARKABLE PROGRESS
I believe that there never was a city in Western Canada of 2500 population—and I have seen most of them at that stage of their history—that had made so much progress in the installation of modern public utilities, that add to the convenience and comfort of its citizens, as Red Deer.

I doubt very much whether there is a town in the Dominion of Canada, to-day of 2500 population that can boast of over five miles of water mains, four miles of sewers, electric light and telephone systems, such substantial schools, churches, beautiful homes, substantial places of business, public institutions, etc., as Red Deer has. Its system of municipal government is the admiration of everyone who has studied it and watched how smoothly Red Deer's municipal machinery is operated. The system is being copied, either in whole or in part, by a number of other towns and cities in Western Canada, and wherever experimented with has proved highly satisfactory.

ANOTHER PREDICTION
I will here venture to make another prediction, of the fulfillment of which there is not the slightest doubt in my mind. Within the next five years the population of Red Deer will be four times what it is now. This opinion is shared by all Red Deer's citizens, as they look out to the exceedingly bright vista that is now opening before them. That the prediction is not an extravagant one, and is fully justified will be seen from a general study of the existing conditions.

RAILWAY ADVANTAGES
Railways have always played a very important part in the growth of cities. They have made small towns into large cities and reduced prosperous towns, not favorably situated for railway purposes, to the status of small, isolated country villages. In the case of Red Deer, its geographical position, its pure water supply and its proximity to an unlimited supply of the best steam coal, makes Red Deer an especially suitable place for a busy railway centre. These advantages are becoming recognized by the different railway companies and railroad operations in the vicinity for the next few years will undoubtedly be very active.

OPERATIONS OF C.P.R. AT RED DEER
That the Canadian Pacific railway company has confidence in the future of Red Deer is evidenced by the large amount of improvements it is making to its facilities at this place. Excavation for the foundation for a handsome $20,000 depot is now completed and the building will be rushed ahead. It will be built of stone, brick and cement, and will be the best on the C. & E. system and an ornament to the town. The roundhouse and machine shops will be double in size, equipment and capacity and the staff of employees doubled in number.

At the present time Red Deer is a freight divisional point on the C. & E. and the freight trains along the Lacombe-Castor branch are operated from here. It has also been given out that the passenger trains from Castor will shortly run to Red Deer. That the C. P. R. have big plans in regard to the extension of its operations at Red Deer is further evidenced by the refusal of the C. & E. townsites owners to sell any of their block of land adjoining the railway yard on the west side.

Next year will also see the C. P. R. Langdon branch extended from Aome to Red Deer, and probably in the near future right through to Jasper Pass.

ALBERTA CENTRAL RAILWAY
It will, however, be in connection with the Alberta Central that railway construction will take place here in the immediate future. A great many reports are in circulation in regard to the operations of that company, many of which are without foundation, but enough information has been verified to guarantee the statement that construction work will be commenced in a very few weeks, it may be in a few days. The charter calls for the commencement of work before August 1st next, and no extension of time has been granted. The final location of the proposed line has been made westward to Rocky Mountain House, 83 miles, and eastward to the crossing of the Red Deer River, about 15 miles north-east of Carbon, and a party of surveyors are operating east of that river.

The head offices of the engineering staff are at Red Deer and preparations are being made for letting contracts and commencing construction work. It is no secret that at least two of the transcontinental lines have endeavored to obtain control of the charter for this road, which carries the usual Dominion government sub-sidy, but I was informed by an officer of the company that it is largely English capital that is behind the project. Be this as it may, the project, which for many years has "hung fire, is at last assuming a more tangible appearance, and gives every evidence of becoming an accomplished fact in the near future.

ROUTE OF THE ROAD.
The charter of the Alberta Central railway is for a road from Moose Jaw to Yellow Head pass, a distance of 655 miles. From Moose Jaw to Red Deer is 420 miles and from Red Deer to the pass is 235 miles. A glance at the map will show that a line, almost straight, drawn between the two terminal points, would pass through Red Deer. The station and yards of the new railway have been located on the south east side of the town, about three quarters of a mile from the post office and a quarter of a mile from the town limits. The engineering difficulties prevented entrance direct into the centre of the town, but connection will be made with the C. & E. by means of a 'Y'.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Carlyle Moore, who represents the company in Red Deer, I was shown the plans of the roads and also visited the site, which is an almost ideal one for railway purposes and is easy of access from every direction. The plans for yardage of the Alberta Central at Red Deer embrace an area of about 250 acres and are laid out on the most modern railway (continued on page 7).

THE SITUATION AT EDMONTON

There now appear to be three parties instead of two at the capital. The Sifton, or machine party, manipulated from Ottawa, the Rutherford Liberal party, that has, after all, never been defeated by a vote in the House, and the Cushing insurgents and the Conservatives who stand for pure government by the people.

On Wednesday the Lieut.-Governor accepted Premier Rutherford's resignation and appointed A. L. Sifton, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, premier in his stead, and then at once prorogued the House to some time in the fall. By this means it was absolutely impossible for any party to get in a vote of want of confidence or anything else. The whole business was a piece of high-handed injustice. The people and the members they sent to represent them were completely ignored. The Edmonton Journal, in speaking on the matter, says:

"In all history there are only two precedents for such high-handed action. Lieutenant-Governor McNicoll dismissed a government and appointed a premier, in British Columbia, and by so doing condemned himself to obscurity for the balance of his days. Oliver Cromwell dismissed a government, but he did it backed by a retinue of soldiers, and Cromwell's action stood because he had the power to make it stand.

"The obvious conclusion is that Lieutenant-Governor Buley believes he has the power to force the people of the province of Alberta to accept his will.

"This power could only be promised from one source—Ottawa."

In the light of the crooked dealings of the Liberal government lately the people would, without doubt, at least return a strong opposition to watch the interests of Alberta if they were appealed to. The Governor by his action deprives the people of this privilege and it is up to the Opposition to ask Lieutenant-Governor Buley by what right he acted as he did. The people have a right to know.

THE ACCESSION OATH.

A good deal of discussion has been aroused over the accession oath and the Pope has addressed a letter to King George V. of England requesting modification of the same by the elimination of certain words which he claims are offensive to Roman Catholics. Let us look at this declaration in the light of comparison with Roman Catholic oaths. For this purpose we publish a Bishop's oath in the province of Quebec and the oath which Princess Ena, a Protestant princess, was obliged to take before she could be wedded to the King of Spain.

A religious body which claims the right to depose heretical kings and to characterize their governments illegal because they are without the affirmation of the Pope, must be dealt with as a foreign power. A religious authority which singles out the Church of England as a body of heretical usurpers should have nothing to expect from the defender of the Protestant faith. A religious power which declares members of the Church of England to be damned until they forsake the same, has not the clean hands with which to approach the tribunal of the Imperial Parliament. Great Britain is the bulwark of Protestantism and as such, should not make any change in the oath without a great deal of consideration. Cardinal Manning said, "It is for you, Right Reverend Brothers, to bend, to break, to subjugate this Imperial race, for Protestantism destroyed in Britain is destroyed throughout the world."

THE KING'S DECLARATION

"I, Edward VII, do solemnly and sincerely, in the presence of God, profess, testify, and declare that I do believe that in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper there is not any transubstantiation of the elements of bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ at or after the consecration thereof by any person whatsoever; and that the invocation or adoration of the Virgin Mary or any other saint, and the sacrifice of the Mass, as they are now used in the Church of Rome, are superstitious and idolatrous, and

I do solemnly, in the presence of God, profess, testify, and declare that I do make this declaration, and every part thereof, in the plain and ordinary sense of the words read unto me, as they are commonly understood by English Protestants, without any evasion, equivocation, or mental reservation whatsoever, and without any dispensation already granted me for this purpose by the Pope, or any other authority or person whatsoever, and without thinking that I am or can be acquitted before God or man, or absolved of this declaration or any part thereof, although the Pope or any other person or persons or power whatsoever should dispense or annul the same, or declare that it was null and void from the beginning."

THE BISHOP'S OATH.

"Following is the oath taken by the Roman Catholic Bishop in the Province of Quebec, a part of the British Empire:

"That the Pope is the true and only head of the Catholic or universal Church throughout the earth, and that by virtue of the keys of binding and loosening given unto him by the Saviour Jesus Christ he hath power to depose heretical kings, princes, states, commonwealths and governments, all being illegal without his sacred affirmation, and that they may safely be destroyed. Therefore, to the utmost of my power I shall and will defend this doctrine and his Holiness' rights and customs against all usurpers, especially against the new pretended authority of the Church of England, and all adherents in regard that they and she be usurper and heretical opposing the sacred mother Church of Rome. I do further declare the doctrine of the Church of England, of the Calvinists, Huguenots and of others of the name Protestants, to be damnable, and they themselves are damned, and to be damned that will not forsake the same. I do further declare that I will help, assist and advise all or any of his Holiness' agents in any place in which I shall be in England, Scotland and Ireland or in any other territory or kingdom, and shall come to and do my utmost to extirpate the heretical Protestant doctrine and to destroy all their pretended power, legal or otherwise."

PRINCESS ENA'S RENUNCIATION.

The Princess Ena was compelled to take the following obligation: "I likewise undoubtedly receive and confess all other things delivered, defined and declared by the Sacred Canons and General Councils, and particularly by the Holy Council of Trent; and I do condemn, reject and anathematize all things contrary and all the heresies which the Church condemned, rejected and anathematized."

The Creed—after reciting the leading dogmas of the Papal system, including Transubstantiation, the Propitiatory sacrifice of the Mass, Purgatory, the veneration of Relics, Images of the Virgin and other Saints, Indulgences, Ecclesiastical Traditions, the Invocation of the Saints, prayers for the dead and absolute obedience to the Pope—concludes with the following form of oath:

"I do at this present freely profess and sincerely hold this true Catholic faith, OUT OF WHICH NO ONE CAN BE SAVED; and I promise most constantly to retain and confess the same entire and inviolate, with God's assistance, to the end of my life. And I will take care, as far as in me lies, that it shall be held, taught and preached by my subjects, or by those the care of whom shall appertain to me in my office; this I vow, promise and swear, so help me God and these Holy Gospels of God."

THE MAY ROD AND GUN

Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., there is no lack of variety, articles appealing to sportsmen of all tastes appearing in this issue. Anglers who are arranging their spring outings will find ample provision for their entertainment and will revel in the stories of good fishing trips told by their fortunate brethren. Correspondence Leslieville, May 21st, 1910.

To the Editor, Red Deer News.

Dear Sir—I almost feel that the paragraph in your notes, "Along the Lobstick Valley" should be treated with the contempt it deserves, but it is so apt to be believed by some people that I take this opportunity of giving the lie to it.

The fire in question came up unexpectedly when I was plunging three-quarters of a mile from home, and it was the density of the smoke in that direction that caused me to run there, to find the flames approaching all that's valuable on the ranch, fence posts, logs, lumber, barns and dwelling house, before a terrific wind. There was no fireguard and no protection, and yet I was, according to your correspondent, "cleaning land and burning some brush and lost control of the fire."

It seems an impudent attempt to have the blame that probably is on his head for this, or some other fire, transferred to mine. It is doubly annoying to be thus accused of setting a fire which came so near being my undoing.

I stayed with the fire in question until it was subdued, and it destroyed neither valuable property nor timber, neither did it burn a single brush pile belonging to me or anyone else, nor did it result in the suffering and death of a good many head of cattle, as stated. If it destroyed any pasture it was my own, and my cattle are not dead nor dying.

Thus have I been accused publicly of a criminal offence. I will give twenty dollars to the Red Deer Memorial Hospital and would place twenty thousand at stake if I had it if your correspondent or anyone else can prove I set this fire.

Failing his ability to prove his words, and since I can hardly expect him to voluntarily show the manliness his writings belie, I warn him that a fully signed and published apology is required by me for the protection of my good name, or I will have immediate steps taken to have myself vindicated.

These last days of drought and terrific fires have been sufficiently harrowing and terrifying to set all good citizens to thinking of some means to cope with the evil of setting fires without any prevention, and I hope that a discussion in the columns of your paper may cause some laws to be enforced whereby the dangers of living in a brush country may be lessened.

I am, yours truly,
JOHN M. REID.

After a long time he seemed to realize rather hazily that the carriage door had been opened to admit somebody's smart, closing bang shocked him awake. He sat up, blinking in confusion, hardly conscious of more, to begin with, than that the train had passed and was again in full flight. Then, his senses clearing, he became aware that his solitary companion, just entered, was a woman. She was seated across from him, her back to the engine, in an attitude which somehow suggested a highly nonchalant frame of mind. She laughed, and immediately by her speaking voice was light and sweet in his hearing.

Beneath his breath the bewildered man said, "The deuce!" and above it a suppressed tone, "Mrs. Hallam!" She nodded to a not unfriendly fashion, smiling brightly. "Myself, Mr. Kirkwood. Really, our two derelict paths are badly tangled just now, aren't they? Were you surprised to find me in here with you? Come, now, confess you were!"

He remarked the smooth, girlish freshness of her cheeks, the sense and humor of her mouth, the veiled glint of excitement in her eyes of the changing sea, and saw as well that she was dressed for traveling, sensibly, but with air, and had brought a small hand bag with her.

"Surprised and delighted," he replied, recovering, with mendacity so intentional and obvious that the woman laughed aloud.

"I knew you'd bet you see, I had the carriage ahead, the one you took," but only partly because you were Mr. Kirkwood. "The other and another part was because sight of you confirmed my own secret intuition. You are I'm quite old enough and wise enough to question even my own intuitions. For you are going to Queensborough, aren't you, Mr. Kirkwood?"

"Queensborough?" he echoed blankly, and, in fact, he was at a loss to follow her drift. "No, Mrs. Hallam, I'm not bound there."

Her surprise was apparent. She made no effort to conceal it. "But," she faltered, "if not there?"

"Give me my word, Mrs. Hallam, I have no intention whatever of going to Queensborough," Kirkwood protested.

"I don't understand." The nervous drumming of a patient heart covered too, visible beneath the hem of her dress, alone betrayed a rising tide of impatience. "Then my intuition was at fault?"

"In this instance, it was at all concerned with my insignificant affairs, yes—most decidedly at fault."

"Very well, then! Now, let us see where are you bound?"

Kirkwood looked out of the window. "I'm convinced it's a rendezvous."

Kirkwood smiled patently at the landscape.

"Is Dorothy Calendar so very, very beautiful, Mr. Kirkwood?" with a trace of malice.

Outragedly Kirkwood read the Southeastern and Chatbam's framed card of warning, posted just above Mrs. Hallam's head, to all such incurable lunatics as are possessed of a desire to travel on the running boards of railway carriages.

"You are going to meet her, aren't you?"

He gracefully concealed a yawn.

The woman's plan of attack took another form. "Last night, when you told me your story, I believed you."

He devoted himself to suppressing the temptingly obvious retort and succeeded, but, though he left it unspoken, the humor of it twitched the corners of his mouth, and Mrs. Hallam was observant, so that her next attempt to draw him out was edged with temper.

"I believed you an American, but a gentleman. It appears that if you ever were the latter you've fallen so low that you will carry your lot with thieves."

Having exhausted his repertoire of rudeness, Kirkwood took to twirling his thumbs.

"I want to ask you if you think it fair to me or my son to leave us in ignorance of the place where you are to meet the thieves who stole our son's jewels?"

"Mrs. Hallam," he said soberly, "if I am going to meet Mr. Calendar or Mr. Mulready, I have no assurance of that fact."

There was only the briefest of pauses, during which she analyzed this, then quickly, "But you hope to?" she snarled.

He felt that the only adequate retort to this would be a shrug of his shoulders, doubted his ability to carry one off and again took refuge in silence.

"I thought so. That was why I wept."

"Yes, I understood. But this morning, when you've had time to think it over—"

"I have no choice in the matter, Mrs. Hallam."

The green eyes darkened ominously. "You mean—I am to understand, then, that you're against us, that you prefer to side with swindlers and scoundrels, all because of a?"

She discovered him eying her with a smile of such inextinguishable and sardonic intelligence that the words died on her lips, and she crimsoned treacherously to herself, for he saw it, and the belief he had conceived while attending to her phrase of fabrication earlier that morning was strengthened to the point of conviction that if anything had been stolen by anybody Mrs. Hallam and her son owned it as little as Calendar.

For the woman, she felt she had steadily lost rather than gained ground. "So," she said slowly after a silence, "you are not for Queensborough? The corollary of that admission, Mr. Kirkwood, is that you are for Sheerneck?"

"I believe," he replied wearily, "that there are no other stations on this line after Newington."

"It follows, then, that—that I follow." And in answer to his perturbed glance she added: "Oh, I'll grant that intuition is sometimes a poor guide. But if you meet George Calendar or shall I. Nothing can prevent that. You can't hinder me."

During the brief balance of the four seconds Mrs. Hallam presumably had food for thought. She frowned, pursed her lips and with one daintily gloved finger fingered the hem of her tailored skirt, while Kirkwood sat watching and wondering how to rid himself of her if she proved really as troublesome as she threatened to be, also he wondered continually what it was all about.

Why did Mrs. Hallam suspect him of designing to meet Calendar at Queensborough? Had she any tangible ground for believing that Calendar could be found in Queensborough? Presumably she had, since she was obviously in pursuit of that gentleman, and Kirkwood inferred, had booked for Queensborough. Was he, then, running away from Calendar and his

Every Day Brings A FRESH PROOF

THAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ARE A BOON TO SUFFERING WOMEN

Mrs. Rousseau tells how they cured her after three years of almost ceaseless pain.

Hintonburg, Ont. (Special).—Every day furnishes fresh proof that the women of Canada can be cured of ailments which have hitherto seemed to be a part of the inheritance of the sex by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. And this place has a living proof in the person of Mrs. William Rousseau, of 27 Morton Street.

"For over three years," Mrs. Rousseau states, "I was very ill. My troubles were painful. I suffered very much with my back. My head ached almost continuously and I scarcely knew what it was to be free from pain. I was very weak and run down, occasionally my hands would swell up, and this, too, gave me a great deal of annoyance and discomfort. I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and very soon commenced to improve. Three boxes cured me completely."

Nine-tenths of suffering women's troubles start from diseased kidneys. The natural way to cure them is to take away the cause, that is, to cure the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure diseased kidneys.

Let none of you treat his brother in a way he himself would dislike to be treated.—Golden Rule of the Mohammedans.

A sudden jolt interrupted this pause, and the warning screech of the brakes informed him that he had no time to scheme, but had best content himself on the plan of action that had brought him thus far—that is, trust to his star and accept what should befall without repining.

He rose, opened the door and, holding it so, turned.

"I regret, Mrs. Hallam," he announced, smiling his crooked smile, "that a pressing engagement is about to prohibit my acquiring you through the ticket gates. You understand, I'm overbooked."

His irrepressible humor proved infectious, and Mrs. Hallam's spirit ran as high as his own. She was smiling cheerfully when she, too, rose.

"I also am in some haste," she averred demurely, gathering up her hand bag and umbrella.

A raised platform shot in beside the carriage, and the speed was so sensibly moderated that the train seemed to be creeping rather than running. Kirkwood flung the door wide open and lowered himself to the running board. The end of the track was in sight, and a man who has been trained to lead San Francisco cable cars flung to a halt, not moving a muscle. He swung off, got his balance and ran swiftly down the platform.

A cry from a bystander caused him to glance over his shoulder. Mrs. Hallam was then in the act of alighting. As he looked the flurry of skirts subsided, and she fell into stride, pursuing him.

CHAPTER XV.

SLEEPY Sheerness must have been scandalized that day and its gosals have acquired ground for gossip on an uncharitable tongue. Kirkwood, however, was so fortunate as to get the ticket before the employee there awoke to the situation. Otherwise, such is the temper of British petty officialdom, he might have been detained the fugitive. As it was, Kirkwood surrendered his ticket and ran out into the street with his back still a dominant factor in the race for, looking back, he saw that Mrs. Hal-am had been held up at the gate, another victim of British red tape. Her ticket read for Queensborough, she was attempting to alight one station farther down the line, and while undoubtedly she was anxious to pay the excess fare, heaven alone knew when she would succeed in allaying the suspicions and resentment of the ticket taker.

"That's good for ten minutes' start!" Kirkwood crowed. "And it never occurred to me to do that!"

Before the station he found two backs to waiting, with little to choose between them. Neither was of a type that did not seem to advertise its pre-Victorian fashioning, and to neither was harnessed an animal that deserved anything but the epithet of screw.

Kirkwood took the nearest, for no other reason than because it was the nearest and all but startled the driver of his box by offering double fare for a brisk pace and a simple service at the end of the ride. Succinctly he set forth his wants, jumped into the anti-quated motor and threw himself down upon a cushion, doubly cautious to hug himself over the joke and bless whatever English brand of railway did rescue him from his present predicament. Tickets should be taken up at the end instead of the outset of a journey.

It was promptly made manifest that he had further cause for gratulation. The cabby, recovering from his amazement, was plying an indefatigable whip and thereby eliciting a degree of speed from his steed undreamed of that his fare had by no means hoped for, much less anticipated.

The Dean summoned the delinquent, lectured him on his shortcomings, and threatened him with dismissal unless conditions were bettered.

Something Worth Painting

Robert Henri, the painter, discussed at a dinner the popular taste in art. "The popular taste in art," he said, "is apt to be peculiar."

"Once in Vermont I was at work upon a picturesque bit of woodland—a lane, a tree, a charming effect of sunlight and shadow—when a hand fell heavily on my shoulder, and the voice of a young farmer said: 'What are ye paintin' that little bit of road for? Come along with me, mister, an' I'll show ye somethin' worth paintin'—three miles o' road, all just repared.'—Washington Star.

Mother (speaking to her son)—He has a beautiful voice, and we have had him taught the flute, so that he can accompany himself.

HAIR GROWTH AND BEAUTY

To prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove dandruff, itching scalp, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, frequent washings with Cuticura Soap and Ointment are especially effective when all else fails. Special and full directions accompanying each package of Cuticura, or will be sent free on application to the Potter Drug & Chemical Corporation, Boston, U.S.A. In the treatment of eczema, rashes, itches and chafings, for nanative, antiseptic, cooling of ulcerated and inflamed mucous surfaces of the face and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery, these pure, sweet and gentle emollients are absolutely indispensable.

Broken In

"Jones is always so happy. I don't understand it."

"He is married."

"Oh, but he is used to it by this time."

Relief for Suffering Everywhere—He whose life is made miserable by the suffering that comes from indigestion and has not tried Parment's Vegetable Pills does not know how easily his formidable foe can be dealt with. These pills will relieve where others fail. They are the result of patient study and are confidently put forward as a sure corrector of disorders of the digestive organs, from which so many suffer.

Do you think a college education helps a man in business? "Yes," I've had two college boys here working for me during the last year, and I'm afraid they'll be out of a job for fear they'd find fault with my grammar when I do it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Twice as Bad

George—"What is more sickening than to see another fellow making love to a girl?"

Harry—"To see another fellow making love to your girl."

MADE IN CANADA and is placed on the market in response to a demand for a Range combining the sterling qualities of Malleable Iron and Polished Steel. Unbreakable, Unvarying, Indestructible, Economical, Design Attractive, Perfect Cookers and Bakers, will last a Lifetime with Proper Care.

The ordinary cast iron range is at best a disappointing investment to the purchaser, so soon does it exhibit the effects of wear and tear, unavailable in a range constructed of such frail and brittle material. The Combined Malleable Iron and Polished Steel Range is the nearest approach to Absolute Perfection ever designed for Comfort, Economy and Satisfactory Domestic Service and wherever installed it will prove itself a continuous blessing to the household. The price at which it is sold is so modest that it is bought easily within the reach of every prudent family.

GUARANTEE

"Dominion Pride" Ranges are sold on the following Guarantee: If any casting proves defective in twelve months from date of purchase, we will furnish same free of charge. The above Guarantee is very broad, no it's or anti's, and any casting that would have a flaw in it that we failed to see in the course of construction, such flaw would show long before the twelve months have transpired when fire is put in range.

INCOMPARABLE OFFER

Our placing direct to the consumer our High Grade "Dominion Pride" Malleable and Polished Steel Range, as fully described in our descriptive circular and guaranteed, for less than you can buy a cast iron range. We are enabled to make this extraordinary offer by our Direct from Factory to Kitchen Plan, which saves the jobbers, retailers, traveling salesmen and their expenses, giving the consumer the benefit of these savings, which in reality enables the consumer to buy as cheap as the wholesale jobber.

PRICE

Why not buy direct from the Manufacturer and save the middlemen's and retailers' profits? "Dominion Pride" Range if sold through the retailer or traveling salesman would have to be sold for $69.00 to $78.00, according to the territory sold. Our price, direct to the consumer, is as follows: "Dominion Pride" Range, 24" or 28" top, with high clean self and elevated tank or flush reservoir, with piece of zinc to go underneath range, 8 joints of blue polished steel pipe and 2 elbows, delivered to any railway express station in Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island for $41.00 (We Pay the Freight), and delivered to any railway express station in Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia for $49.00 (We Pay the Freight), $5.00 to accompany order, the balance to be paid when range is delivered to you. Red Deer in Limelight.

ideas. The plans make provision for crossing the C. & E. railway
by means of an overhead bridge.
The line will cross the Red Deer river west about 7 miles from town where there is an excellent crossing; will skirt Sylvan Lake, Red Deer's beautiful summer resort, line to Rocky Mountain House, opening up a country exceedingly rich in agricultural, mineral and timber wealth. Eastward, the crossing of the Red Deer river will be about midway between the crossings of the C.
N.R. and the G.T.P. The Sa-katchewan river crossing will be about 30 miles south of Outlook,
on the Moose Jaw-Lacombe
branch.

The grade of the proposed road
is said to be the highest standard grade of any road traversing the country from east to west, it being at no place more than 4-10 of one per cent, and with no curva-tures greater than three degrees.
To maintain this degree of grade and curvature will, especially to the west and at the river, crossings, entail considerable heavy work.

I have purposely gone into these details of the Alberta Central railway company on account of the great influence its construction is bound to have on the immediate future prosperity of Red Deer, and the country territory to it, especially to the west.

CANADIAN NORTHERN PROJECTS.

In all this railway activity that will be going on around Red Deer
the Canadian Northern will without doubt, have a share. The trial survey for a short line from Calgary to Strathcona was made last fall, and passes through Red Deer towards the river, crossing near the mouth of Waskasoo Creek and skirting the hills on the east side of the town. While nothing definite is known as to when this line will be opened, it is said that the company is approaching the government for so much money on surveys is evidence of its intentions in regard to the line. The bonds of the C.
N.R. for a line east and west of Red Deer to the Vegreville-Red Deer branch on the east and 25 miles west to Medicine river, have been guaranteed by the provincial government. It is also stated that a line is projected from the crossing of the Red Deer river of the Goose Lake branch of the C.N.R. to the Yellowhead pass, which if built must pass through the town of Red Deer.

Although the G.T.P. has so far made no move in the direction of getting into the country west of the C. & E., it is not at all likely that it will allow its big rivals to monopolize the trade of that large area.

OTHER ADVANTAGES OF RED DEER.

So much for Red Deer's railway prospects. While these are sufficient to justify the hopes of its citizens in the future of the town, there are many other advantages on which these hopes are founded, some of which are largely dependent on railway development.

Red Deer has special advantages for manufacturing purposes, the essentials for which are cheap power, an abundant supply of raw material and good water. In addition to immense areas of steam coal to the west, which will be developed just as soon as that country is supplied with railway facilities, cheap power can be developed at the Cape of the Red Deer river,
eight miles east of the town,
where the river narrows between almost perpendicular rocky banks which afford unique advantages for developing an immense water power. A considerable start has already been made in the establishing manufacturing industries,
all of which, although comparatively in their infancy, give great promise of developing into enterprises of considerable magnitude.

INDUSTRIES ESTABLISHED.

The Great West Lumber Co. is Red Deer's oldest and largest manufacturing industry and has been in successful operation for the past five years and this season intends to manufacture upwards of 8,000,000 feet of lumber. It employs on an average the entire year 125 men in its timber lands and in its saw mill.
The limits are located in the foot hills and in the mountains, and the logs are floated down the river to the mill at Red Deer, where the company has put in extensive facilities for storing the logs brought down during the high water season. The company has enough timber in its own limits to keep its Red Deer mill in operation for many years to come.

In addition to the Great West,
there are three other saw mill
outlets in operation in the district, which draw their supplies from Red Deer and ship their surplus output from this point.
There are immense areas of timber lands west of and in the vicinity of Rocky Mountain House only awaiting railway facilities to be developed into a source of great wealth.

The two Red Deer brick yards
last year had a combined output of over 3,000,000 bricks, which found a ready market locally in the towns along the C. & E. and in the city of Calgary. This year the output will be considerably greater and both yards are being run to their capacity to keep pace with the demand. They are equipped with the most modern brick making appliances and feature details of the very best class for the manufacture of a first class article.

The Gaetz Manufacturing Co.
established about three months ago a factory for the manufacture of overalls, shirts, etc., which is proving a great success, and gives promise of developing into a very large industry. Twelve machines are being operated at present but the demand for the goods is so great that the company has deemed it advisable to erect a large factory and greatly increase its output by installing additional machinery. The aim of the company is to turn out only a first class article, and to build up a reputation on the superior quality and workmanship of its goods.

The Van Slyke Plow Co. is another industry started in Red Deer this year, and judging from the manner in which its output so far has been secured by the farmers it also will in a short time
be one of the leading industries of Alberta. The distinguishing feature of the Van Slyke Plow is its angling coupler, light draft,
left out and long sweep mould
board, 7 feet long, which turns the sod completely over and prevents any possibility of its turning back. Every part of the plow, except the seats and a few parts of the adjusting levers is manufactured in Red Deer.

Mr. Van Slyke, the inventor,
was a resident in the Red Deer district and worked out his plan from his experience on his own farm. Being a mechanic, he made several plows for himself and his neighbors, which worked so well that they convinced him of the possibility of its being made in large quantities. He has now a factory in Red Deer.
The company has now orders sufficient to take its complete output for the next three months with day and night shifts, and will in a short time commence the erection of a large factory.

The Red Deer Foundry and Iron Works is another growing industry in the town, which is a great convenience to the farmers of the district.
Cushing Bros. of Calgary have had a site of five acres reserved for the erection of a planing mill and saw and door factory, which will add one more to Red Deer's manufacturing industries.

RED DEER AS A PLACE OF RESIDENCE
As a place of residence with beautiful natural surroundings,
the town of Red Deer is unsurpassed by any place in the province of Alberta and nature has been indeed kind to the town in that respect. When I visited the town last year I wrote of it in the following terms: "With the big river in the foreground, finely wooded hills covered with spruce, poplar and cottonwood trees, at the base of which meander the serpentine purling Waskasoo Creek, the valley presents one of the most ideal and romantic scenes that can be imagined.
Lovely homes, set in shady groves with well kept lawns and grounds, greet the eye and cannot fail to inspire a love of the beautiful in old and young. The shaded arbors, delightful walks,
the scent of the spruce, the balm and the innumerable varieties of wild flowers make it one of the loveliest retreats for early spring and summer enjoyment."

Seen today, although about a month earlier in the season, the same sentiments are aroused as when I visited the town last June.
It appears to have been the idea of the pioneers of Red Deer to erect beautiful homes and to utilize to the greatest advantage
the beautiful natural environments of the townsite. As a result Red Deer is a town of beautiful homes, which would do credit to cities many times its size. Not only is this true of the town but the residences and farm buildings of the surrounding country give evidence of refined taste and prosperity.

In addition to its natural attractions as a place of residence, Red Deer is a very desirable place of residence. Its educational advantages are unsur-
passed by any place in the province. The Red Deer public and high schools are models in the way of architectural beauty of construction, equipment and the high standard of ability of its teaching staff. The churches of Red Deer would do credit to the largest cities in Western Canada, and are conducted along the modern lines of institutional church work in which provision is made not only for the religious side of human nature but for the development of the social side as well. As a result, the social and moral tone of the town is of a high order.

As a place where men of limited means or men who are working for salaries can establish comfortable homes, in the midst of pleasant surroundings and with the

The Hospital Ladies Aid will meet at Mrs. F. H. Tallman's residence on Tuesday afternoon next.

A. G. Ayres, assistant in the Town office, leaves for Montreal to attend the Grand Lodge of the C. O. F. on Tuesday next.

Why experiment with experiments? Get the genuine Kodak, Eastman Film, etc., at the Gaetz-Cornett Drug & Book Store.

H. Wallace, now with R. C. Brumpton, will start up for himself in the boot and shoe business in the premises lately vacated by W. T. Coote.

Rev. D. D. McLennan and family desire to express gratitude to their friends and neighbors for great kindness and sympathy shown to the late Mrs. McLennan during her illness and to all the family in their sorrow and bereavement.

Red Deer branch of Natural History Society will be held at the home of Mrs. F. H. Tallman on Tuesday evening, June 7th. Mr. Cody will discuss comets, and Mrs. Root cryptograms, in their relation to agriculture. Visitors welcome.

Sarah, wife of Rev. D. D. McLennan, Presbyterian minister at Willowdale, died on Monday last, aged 76 years. The funeral takes place to-day at 3 o'clock. Deceased has been ill for a long time, and she bore her suffering with Christian fortitude. Her aged partner who survives her has the sympathy of the community.

Gaetz Park is now open to teams, and the public generally. Entrance for rigs, East avenue and River avenue, driving in one side and out the other is necessary. The Town would ask the citizens, however, not to tie horses to the trees, leave old papers around or cut the shrubbery. Visit the park and enjoy a few hours of recreation among the trees. It will do you good.

Mabel Francis, wife of Charles H. Snell, died on Monday last, aged 33 years. Mrs. Snell came from England last year and was married to Mr. Snell, May 15th, 1900. Mr. Snell is known to almost everybody in the western country as he keeps the stopping house at Eokville, and a great deal of sympathy is extended to him in his bereavement. Child bed fever was cause of death. The funeral took place yesterday at 3 o'clock to the Red Deer Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Tyner, officiating.

SELLING SPECTACLES.

That is quite easy. Anyone can do it, provided a willing purchaser is found. To properly measure a refractive error, and scientifically adjust correctly ground lenses to the eyes in such a way as to remove all discomfort of vision is, however, quite a different matter. It requires much knowledge, experience and common sense. To claim that one knows all there is to know about this or any subject is rather foolish. It is the record that counts.

Many years' successful experience justifies me in soliciting your patronage.

Evarts Sports on May 24th.

The pretty and prosperous village of Evarts was all alive on Tuesday with a big, happy holiday crowd, the event being the Annual Victoria Day sports. Early in the morning the people began to arrive, and by noon, there were about 400 people present. The sports were held in the afternoon on Mr. McMillan's farm, adjoining the village. Chairman S. J. Smith and his assistants were on the job all the time and the programme of sports was pulled off in smart order.

The entries in each of the different events were very good, and there was some exciting finishes, especially in the horse races.

Evarts won the baseball match by defeating Leslieville 10 to 5, and in the football match Evarts was again successful, defeating Markerville 3 goals to 0.

The following were the prize winners: Girls' Race—Grace Martin, Beatrice Frid.
Boys' Race—Chas. Kalaputis, Merit.
100 Yards Dash—J. Coghlin, M. Ensign.
Pony Race—H. B. Fraser, L. La-vell.

Mr. Patterson, a Leslieville host-er, was on the grounds, and invited all the people to the Leslieville July 1st celebration, especially those having speedy oxen or bucking bulls.

Penhold U.F.A.

Minutes of meeting held in the Penhold schoolhouse May 21st.

President T. P. Parker in the chair. The business of the meeting was the hog wire contract and binder twine. The wire contract was thoroughly discussed, no action being taken as a body, it being left to the individual members to order as they see fit.

Several quotations on binder twine were received, that of the Kingston Penitentiary being accepted as the most favorable, the terms being 3 c. per lb. for 500 ft. and 9 c. per lb. for 600 ft. f. o. b. Penhold. All members wishing to take advantage of this offer are asked to send in their orders to the Secretary, as soon as possible, as the supply of twine is limited.

The resolution re the Hudson's Bay Railway, sent in by Roseview Union was brought forward, and the following passed on motion of E. Carswell and R. Dixon:

That we approve of the principle advanced by the Roseview Union, "that no land grants or subsidies be granted to privately owned railways," but we cannot subscribe to their resolution, as we believe that private enterprise would thereby be crippled to the detriment of the public good.

On motion of J. Oldford and R. Dixon the railway expenses of the Edmonton Convention were paid.

The meeting then adjourned to the third Saturday in June.

A. SPEARMAN, Sec.

Blackfalds

On the evening of the 24th a concert was given in the Public Hall, Blackfalds, under the auspices of the Modern Woodmen of America before a crowded house. Mr. William Scott, M. T. S. C., was in charge of the programme, which was a lengthy one of superior quality.

Those taking part were Mrs. Wigmore, L.R.A.M., who was the official accompanist, Mrs. Shular, Mrs. Trout, Miss M. Gunn, Miss Ward, Miss Carr, Miss K. Gunn, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Scott. An interesting feature of the evening's entertainment was the singing by Mr. Scott of his own compositions. These were "A Vision of Yore," words by Mrs. Wigmore, music by W. Scott, and "The Emerald Isle," words and music by W. Scott.

Eckville

E. Bernard is busy at Pitco, fitting up the new cheese factory. Mr. Rourke has taken charge here.

Mrs. Bruno Krause was visiting here last week. Mr. Krause was west looking over his timber limits.

Ted Frodeen passed through with the first of the Van Slyke plows for the west.

Mr. Widen preached here last Sunday, Rev. J. P. Pitco is due here Sunday, June 12th.

The U.F.A. local branch seems doomed. Last Friday the members failed to turn out. Even the president, who lives close to the place of meeting, did not attend. No wonder the merchants and speculators foot the hayseeds every time.
